“Teach For America” Comes to Montgomery

A photograph showing four young men, likely students, wearing blue polo shirts and working together at a table. They are focused on a task, with one student in the foreground using a pair of scissors to cut a piece of paper. The other students are looking on intently. The scene is brightly lit, suggesting an indoor classroom or workshop setting.

“Teach For America is growing the movement of leaders who work to ensure that kids growing up in poverty get an excellent education.”
